Summation The 106th Victorian Championship Show was held over two days 12th and 13th March 2022 at the KCC Grounds in Skye Victoria. We were fortunate that the weather was fine however the days were overly warm. I was mindful that it was quite hot particularly after 12:30pm each day, therefore I made sure that the dogs had enough rest breaks and opportunities for water.

The show ran very smoothly and on time, assisted by the professional work of the show team, led by Ian Urie. The Show Secretary, Cristine Begbie made me feel very welcome and looked after all my needs. I was supported on both days by great stewards in Ian Urie and Vince Tantaro and the ever efficient Barb Blythe doing the stenography. It was great to have Vince mentoring Matt Morris aspirant in the Judges Training Scheme on Saturday and on Sunday Jenny Yuen worked with Nicky McDermott as she is moving through to the final phase towards gaining her full GSDCA Specialist Judges Licence. Each day they joined me in the ring to cement the experience of judging inside the ring instead of being outside. This is essential in judges training. There is so much more to be gained by being in the ring and seeing what the judge sees.

It was a good entry by today's standards and the lower numbers in classes limit the opportunity to make judgements about trends for particular sires. The younger classes were dominated by Chili della Valcuvia (12 progeny 4 class wins) and Wulkano Uno von Schnitzerteam (6 progeny 3 class wins), Dingo di Casa Mary (3 progeny 2 class wins) and the older classes by Conbhairean Freddie (10 progeny 3 class wins).

Most of the older dogs were well trained and handled the gaiting phases and conditions quite well. The open classes were gun tested with 32 out of 33 animals showing no concern. The open classes were temperament tested individually and transparently with no issues being exposed. In the older classes I enabled dogs I considered could win, to lead the class and have an opportunity at the front. Dogs were asked to gait a lap or two of the ring without assistance from outside attraction. Their performance in this exercise strongly factored into my consideration as to the ultimate decision. The competition was particularly close in the Open stock coat classes.

Prominent faults that I critiqued often were that a large number of exhibits were erect or slightly erect in the neck. The length of the neck was quite good in most cases however the lay is a problem. It often combines with a steep shoulder or an overangulated hind. Dogs who run with their head raised generally are compensating for an overangulated hindquarter that is transmitting to the forehand and in order for the dog to feel balanced they lift the head and the feet to get the timing right. This distorts the whole overline. There were a lot of animals critiqued with slightly deep to deep hindquarter angulation, and this fault was often coupled with either a curved back or a bend in the lumbar spine, that originates from a peak in the back. In turn, the pelvis is often steep lowering the position of the knee and removes room for the dog to complete the hindquarter drive properly. Approximately 25-30% of animals exhibited did not stand correct in front. This is concerning because the front legs bear the weight of the locomotion and the legs not being straight creates further instability and will cause wear and tear on the dog's ability to maintain trotting for extended periods of time. It is quite a serious fault. There are varying degrees of incorrect fronts and these range from; narrow chests that don't provide breadth at the chest for the elbows, triggering the dog to stand east west to take its weight; the legs are straight but the pasterns are weak and turn out, or at times the whole leg is twisted. I saw degrees of all of these over the weekend. Many animals presented with medium eye colour combined with very dark masking that made this more prominent. This is purely an aesthetic thing. There were very few animals with truly light eyes.

The animals promoted in the open classes were mostly free from the faults mentioned above. They were assessed on their construction, soundness, movement and presentation combined. I was very impressed with the top four to five animals in the open stock coat classes. The first two open long stock coat males and females were also very pleasing.

Thanks to the exhibitors for their sportsmanship. The vibe at the show appeared very positive and I had a very enjoyable weekend judging and catching up with colleagues, exhibitors and long time friends. Special thanks to Brank and Chris who picked me up from the airport and brought me to the show each day.
