Judges Summary

I would like to thank the GSDL and its members for the invitation to judge your State Breed Exhibition, the Show Committee for their hospitality, my Ring steward Teresa Curry and Stenographer Leeanne Lynch and photographer Fiona.

The show ran very smoothly both days despite being held at Luddenham due to the clubs grounds being unavailable. The weather was fairly kind to us. Saturday all classes up to Intermediate of both varieties were judged and Sunday all the Open classes and Sires progeny were run.

Overall quality of the exhibits was very good both days with several outstanding animals presented. General virtues and faults noted were most of the animals were measured within acceptable size, eye colour was medium to dark in the majority, some animals should have better strength of the lower jaw. The main areas of concern are in the length and angle of the neck, quite a number of exhibits are quite restricted in this area which restricts the forehead reach. Forequarter angulation was good to very good. Generally, the hindquarter angulation was fairly good, a few animals had very long rear pasterns which affected their movement.

With respect to providing breed direction for a State Breed show I did research into the statistics of the animals entered into the Open classes which was considered in my final placings. All the younger classes were judged on merit on the day.

When considering animals for the highest grading of Excellent Merit for me there are several things to factor. This includes the animal's overall construction and performance on the day, their pedigree, previous show results and any progeny the animal has as well as Breed survey HD and ED results of the progeny and the bloodline. For females who have less influence on the breed numbers wise, subjectively it would appear easier to gain the Merit grading without progeny if they are relatively just into the class age wise. For these females decisions were made on the stated criteria and a high predictability of their bloodlines to go on to produce high quality animals. I look forward to seeing progeny of some of the males with high Excellent gradings in the future with the hope they will be elevated to the Merit group.

A brief run down of each animal in the Open Class is provided under their critique. Once again I thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to judge your State Breed show.

Double P1 upper left. Broken upper left middle incisors and lower bottom incisors damaged. Very large, stands on the upper limit of size, bitch of very good type and proportions. Very good head and expression with desired dark eyes. Normal withers, straight back, the croup is of good lay but could be a fraction longer, slightly short under chest, good forequarter angulation upper arm is long but should be much better angled, very good hindquarter angulation. Stands correct in front, steps slightly wide coming and going. On lead shows balanced movement however the reach and drive should be more effective, during the off-lead shows well balanced movement however the reach and drive should be more effective and the wither held higher. Her overall performance was a little lacking today. Shows slight concern to the gun.

Excellent 9 at 2022 GSDCA National.
